Quality Products

Quality is our trademark because we believe it's the deciding factor. Our company is built around the idea that reliability, design and performance are the keystones to success. With more than a 100 years of experience we continue to listen, develop and evolve. We grow and change in order to deliver the best quality in a customized product that delivers and exceeds our customer's expectations.

Reliable by Innovation

Future product delivery will be done with solutions that are not available today. That is why de Jong continues to innovate with a comprehensive product development program throughout our company. It is the foundation for our treasured reliability and consistent quality, and ultimately, our international success.

Worldwide

We are a Dutch, family-owned company with an international scope. We operate globally with manufacturing locations in The Netherlands and in the USA. We apply our practical and down to earth culture on global vending solutions resulting in an international network of office coffee providers, coffee roasters, service organisations and operators, spanning four continents.
